

Part 4 Reflection:

The website I made is a website that has information about me, I think I did a decent job of working on it. The expectations compare to A1 is actually impressive, before coming to 1170, I thought my CSS was horrible, which is arguably true, but the website didn't turn out to look too bad. I think I will be able to use it for the purpose it is outlined, as I can now put my resume, my experiences and much more for my future jobs. The assignment was pretty well designed as it also gave creativity and instructions.
